Provis Wins "Community Engagement Initiative of the Year" Accolade at the Smart Built Environment Awards 2024

Abu Dhabi, 14 October 2024 – Leading full-service real estate company, Provis, has won the prestigious 'Community Engagement Initiative of the Year Award' at the Smart Built Environment Awards 2024 that recently took place in Dubai. This award acknowledges the company's efforts in fostering connections within communities and promoting engagement among residents.

Provis focuses on shared values, including health and well-being, environmental stewardship and community engagement. The company's initiatives aim to create meaningful experiences for residents and enhance the sense of belonging across its managed communities.

"We are truly honored to be recognised at the Smart Built Environment Awards, particularly for winning the 'Excellence in Community Engagement' award," said Randy Fink, CEO at Provis. "This recognition highlights our team's dedication to fostering communities where residents feel valued. Our initiatives extend beyond events; we actively cultivate a strong sense of community. By constantly innovating and seeking new ways to engage residents, we're setting a new standard for community building and engagement."

In the past year, Provis has hosted over 170 community events, ranging from wellness programs and cultural celebrations to initiatives focused on social responsibility and environmental sustainability. A notable example includes a partnership with Steppi and the Make-A-Wish Foundation for a Steps Challenge, where 384 community members collectively walked over 68 million steps to help grant wishes for five children with chronic illnesses in the UAE.

The Smart Built Environment Awards (SBEA) are a prestigious regional programme honouring excellence in the management of buildings and communities. Established in 2021, SBEA recognises key players across facilities management, property management, community management and PropTech who demonstrate outstanding commitment and innovation.
